What's In a Name?

Corydon, Indiana was home to the first state capitol. In June of 1816, the state constitution was drafted in the two-story, square building made of Indiana Limestone. With the recent passing of Corydon's favorite son, Frank O'Bannon, it was also out of respect that our firm chose the name. Our slogan "First in Governmental Affairs" stems from the idea of the original capitol. Choosing a location proved relatively simple. When space became available in the ISTA Centre, it seemed the perfect place for The Corydon Group to take up residence. "Mike and I were both long time members of the Indianapolis Press Club as well, and utilizing the recently vacated space for our offices was also sentimentally attractive to all of us," added Chris Gibson.

Spotlight on Representative Marlin Stutzman

Representative Marlin Stutzman serves his community as a farmer, small businessman, family man, and state representative. He represents LaGrange, Noble, and DeKalb Counties. Rep. Stutzman graduated from the Lake Area Christian Schools, and studied business at Glen Oaks Community College. Raised on a farm in Howe, Indiana, Marlin and his wife have chosen to raise their son in Howe as well. Deeply rooted in this farming community Marlin is the fourth generation of his family to work the 3,500 acre family farm in the Michiana area.

Rep. Stutzman is actively involved in the Young Republicans of LaGrange County, the Howe Community Association, National Rifle Association (NRA), Indiana Farm Bureau, Association for Retarded Children (ARC), National Federation for Independent Businesses (NFIB), and is also involved in overseas missions with campus crusade. He has been to Russia, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Mexico, Guatemala, and Honduras with the program. He and his family also attend the Community Baptist Church where he and his wife

Christy are active church members. During his time at the statehouse, Rep. Stutzman serves on the Environmental Affairs, Human Affairs, and Road and Transportation Committees. In past sessions, Rep. Stutzman has authored legislation on spring semester ISTEP, excused absence from school for a military funeral, and registrations and licenses for farm vehicles. He also authored an amendment to HB1098 (Child Restraint).

Senator Evan Bayh at The Corydon Group

Senator Bayh Visits The Corydon Group

In October 2004, The Corydon Group held a fundraiser at our offices for United States Senator Evan Bayh. This was the second event for Senator Bayh that our firm had hosted in the last 18 months. The senator spoke to our clients about a myriad of issues ranging from his family to his stance on legislative issues. Senator Bayh also took questions from clients who attended the fundraiser and spoke to the individual concerns of different organizations. Senator Bayh sits on the Select Committee on Intelligence, Armed Services Committee, Special Committee on Aging, Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs, and Small Business Affairs committees.

“Take Me Out To The Ball Game”

The Corydon Group, in association with some of our clients, including Anheuser-Busch, Wal-Mart Stores, and Coca-Cola, is having a fundraiser for the Speaker of the House, Brian Bosma. We at TCG know fundraising can be repetitive and boring. So, we have invited the Speaker to Budweiser Night at Victory Field in Indianapolis on August 16. Anheuser-Busch has arranged for the Speaker to throw out the first pitch and do radio commentary during an inning of the game. Tickets are limited for this event. If you are interested in attending, please contact Chris Gibson at 317.634.5963.

The Corydon Group to Host Merritt Fundraiser

The Corydon Group will be hosting a fundraiser for Senator Jim Merritt this summer. Clients will get a chance to meet and talk to the Caucus Chairman in a relaxed and fun atmosphere (the event will be at the home of Mike and Mary Leppert). If you are interested in this event, please contact Mike Leppert at 317.634.5963.

Indiana Coalition on Housing & Homeless Issues, Inc.
Seeking a decent home and a suitable living environment for every Hoosier family

ICHHI was formed in 1988 by a group of housing and homeless service providers and advocates from all over Indiana who recognized a need for a unified and concerted effort to streamline programs and services for Indiana residents working towards self-sufficiency.

Today, ICHHI is a state-wide non-profit organization that believes everyone in Indiana deserves safe, decent, affordable housing; income; and resources for self-sufficiency.

ICHHI is committed to using a holistic grassroots approach to building stronger individuals, families, and communities through planning, research, education, and advocacy. Through these methods, ICHHI has been successful at bringing together public and private sector organizations on local, state, and federal levels to find solutions to affordable housing, homelessness, and poverty. Their programs include Hoosier Management Information System (HMIS), Hoosier Community Development Research (HCDR), Continuum of Care, and Indiana Institute for Working Families. For more information about ICHHI, please visit their website:
